

H. R. 290.

FEBRUARY 12, 1823.

Read twice, and committed to a Committee of the whole House to-morrow.

A BILL

For the relief of Thomas Collins.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives
2 of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That
3 the accounting officers of the Treasury Department be, and
4 they are hereby, authorized to settle the account of Thomas
5 Collins, late a captain of militia, in the service of the United 6 States, for moneys which he may have advanced to pay the 7 necessary expenses, authorized by law, of the troops under
8 his command, while in service as aforesaid, in such manner
9 as may to them appear just and reasonable, reimbursing to 10 him any sums he may for that purpose have advanced under 11 authority of law as aforesaid.
